SHADES

The new fad at Moon Valley is Shades. Everyone seems to be getting in on this new craze. Mirrored, super dark, colored, striped, and the ever-popular shaded with strings attached round out the list. Whether they wear Vuarnet's or Ferrari's, everyone who's "in" wears shades.

"ROCKETS GO FOR THE GOLD"

"Rockets go for the gold" was the theme for this years Homecoming. On Monday, it was the ever so popular Nerd Day! On Tuesday, everyone rolled out of bed and came to school adorned in their finest sleepwear for Pajama Day! On Wednesday, we saw all the students actually "dress up" for Formal Day! On Thursday, all of us found our shades and bermudas for California Day! On Friday, everyone wore red, white, and blue to show their support for Spirit Day! To end out the week, Saturday, the cafeteria played host for the annual Homecoming Dance.

Let's give a great big cheer for one of the hardest working groups on campus, SPIRIT-LINE. These girls, consisting of 12 varsity and 6 junior varsity, work side by side all year. You will see them practicing on routines and dances, even during the summer. Their hard work paid off during the summer of 1984 when they captured top honors at the National Cheerleaders Association Workshop.

Maki Takeuchi

I'm Maki Takeuchi from Tokyo, Japan. I came here to Phoenix at the end of August. When I first came to this school I was surprised because there were so many school buildings and the campus was so large. I thought it would be hard to move from class to class on rainy days, but I soon realized that it didn't rain much here in Arizona.

In Japan we have much more rain than here. The four seasons are very distinct and each one is beautiful, but I also like the climate here.

School is different from Japan. There are alot of fun events in schools in America and the kids seem like they really enjoy them. I enjoy being a student of Moon Valley.

The S.A.D.D. (Students Against Driving Drunk) Association's First organizational meeting had an attendance of over 60 people. The S.A.D.D. Association was not formed to condone drinking but rather to make a student stop and think after they have had too much to drink, before getting behind the wheel. We do not wnat to see any of our students becoming because of statistics associated with drinking and driving. Plans were made for an Alcohol Awareness Week to be held April 1-4 1985, more S.A.D.D. nites at the movies, and a special trip to Prescott for the workshop P.L.E.D.G.E. We also received a $200 grant from A.R.C.A. through Luis Ibarra.

If we make one student stop and think before he turns the keys, then S.A.D.D. has succeeded.

THE DIARY OF ANNE FRANK

During WW2, after the Germans invaded Holland, 2 families, The Franks and The Van Daans, went into hiding in an old warehouse. With the fear of being captured or having little or no food, the 2 families became very irritable.

During this time, the Frank's youngest daughter, Anne (portrayed by Kat Samuels) began writing in her diary all of the things that she was thinking. Anne's attraction to Peter Van Daan (portrayed by Pat Reed) grew stronger over the 2 year time span.

In spite of the difficulties that the Germans had caused for her and her family, she still believed that "people were really good at heart."

HAROLD

MAUDE

Colin Higgins has created a hilariously touching comedy, Harold and Maude. Harold (played by Robert Hungerford) a nineteen year old young man, feigns suicide for the benefit of others. Unexpectedly, Harold finds himself confronted with a vivacious 80 year old woman, Maude (played by Rochelle Knight). Together the two experience a lifetime of emotions in one week. Through Maude, Harold learns to cherish life through this fulfilling relationship.

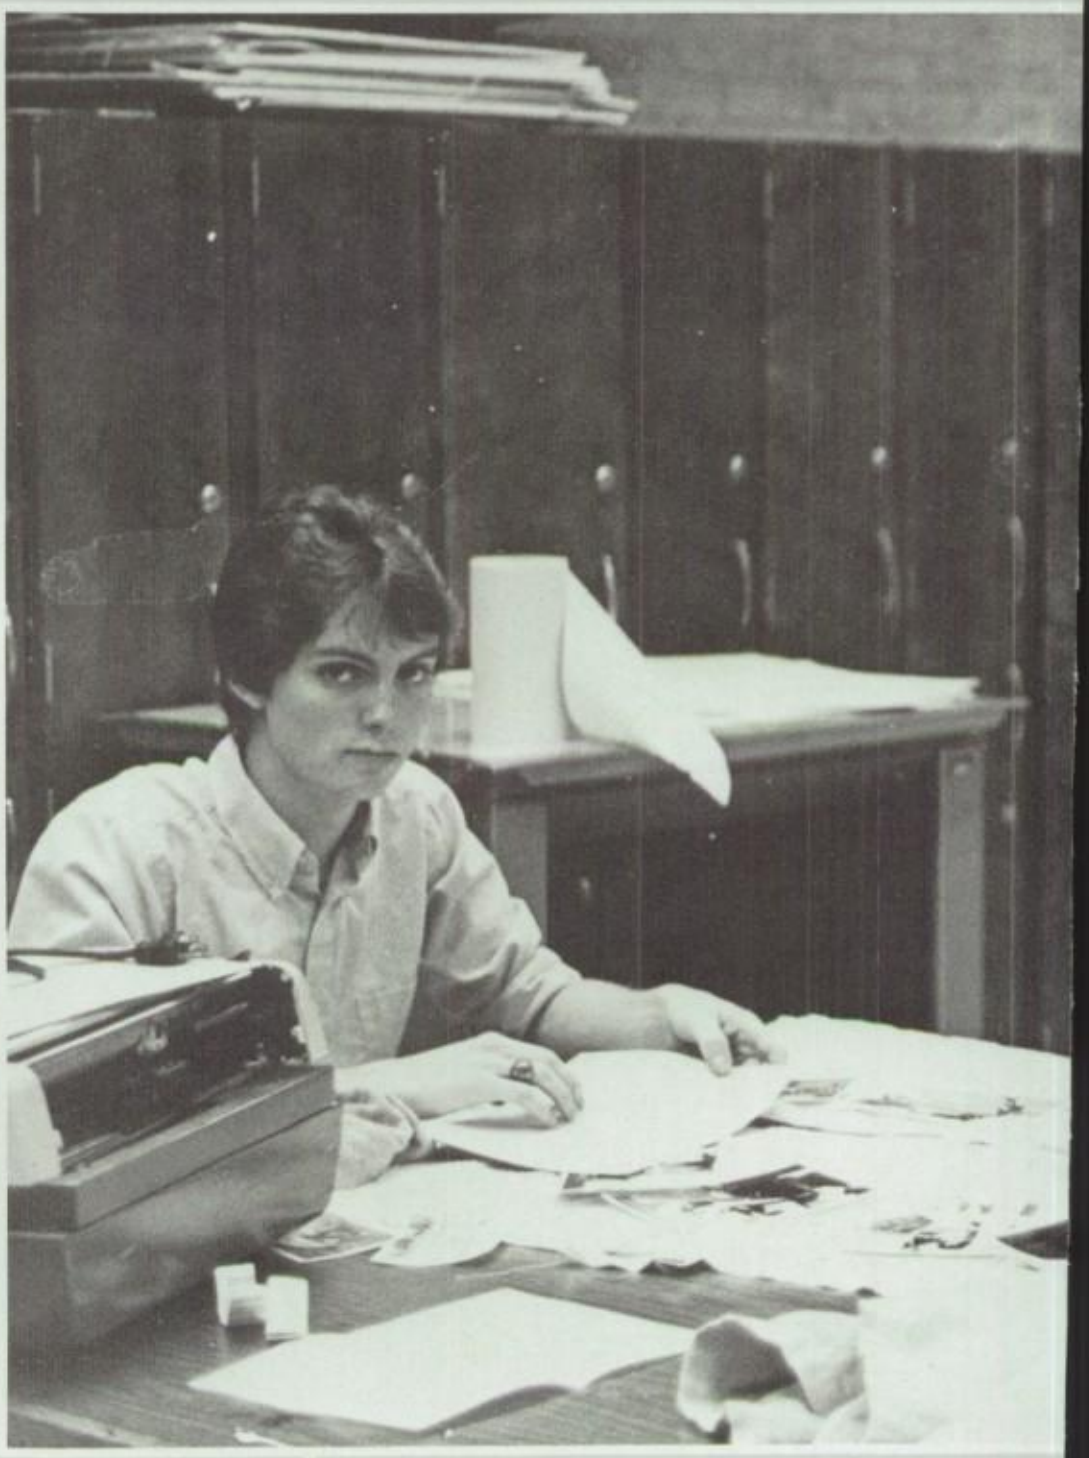
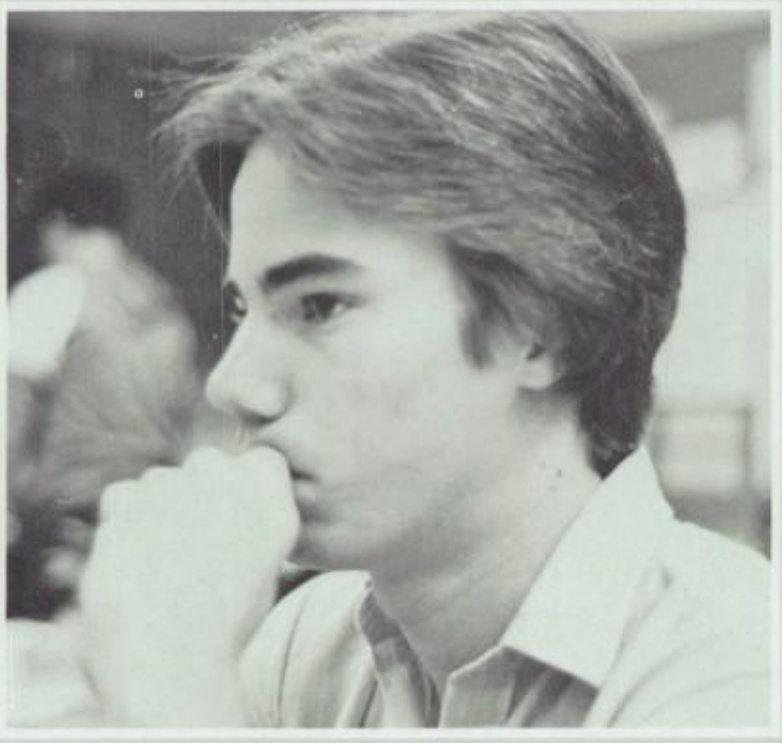
COUNTDOWN
STAFF
1985





The Yearbook Staff began a very optimistic year. The late arrival of our previous book made us more determined than ever to get our deadlines out on time. Our photographers Dale Shough, David Nelson and Robert Hungerford have more than proved themselves to be excellent in dilligent coverage and quality prints. Our apprentice photographers Brian Kidney and Brian Marshall are doing a great job. Scheduling photos of groups is turning into a note exchange marathon from mailbox to mailbox. Retakes have been necessary for as many reasons as there are different situations. The staff is working very hard to make this yearbook new, innovative and the best ever.

Bravo!

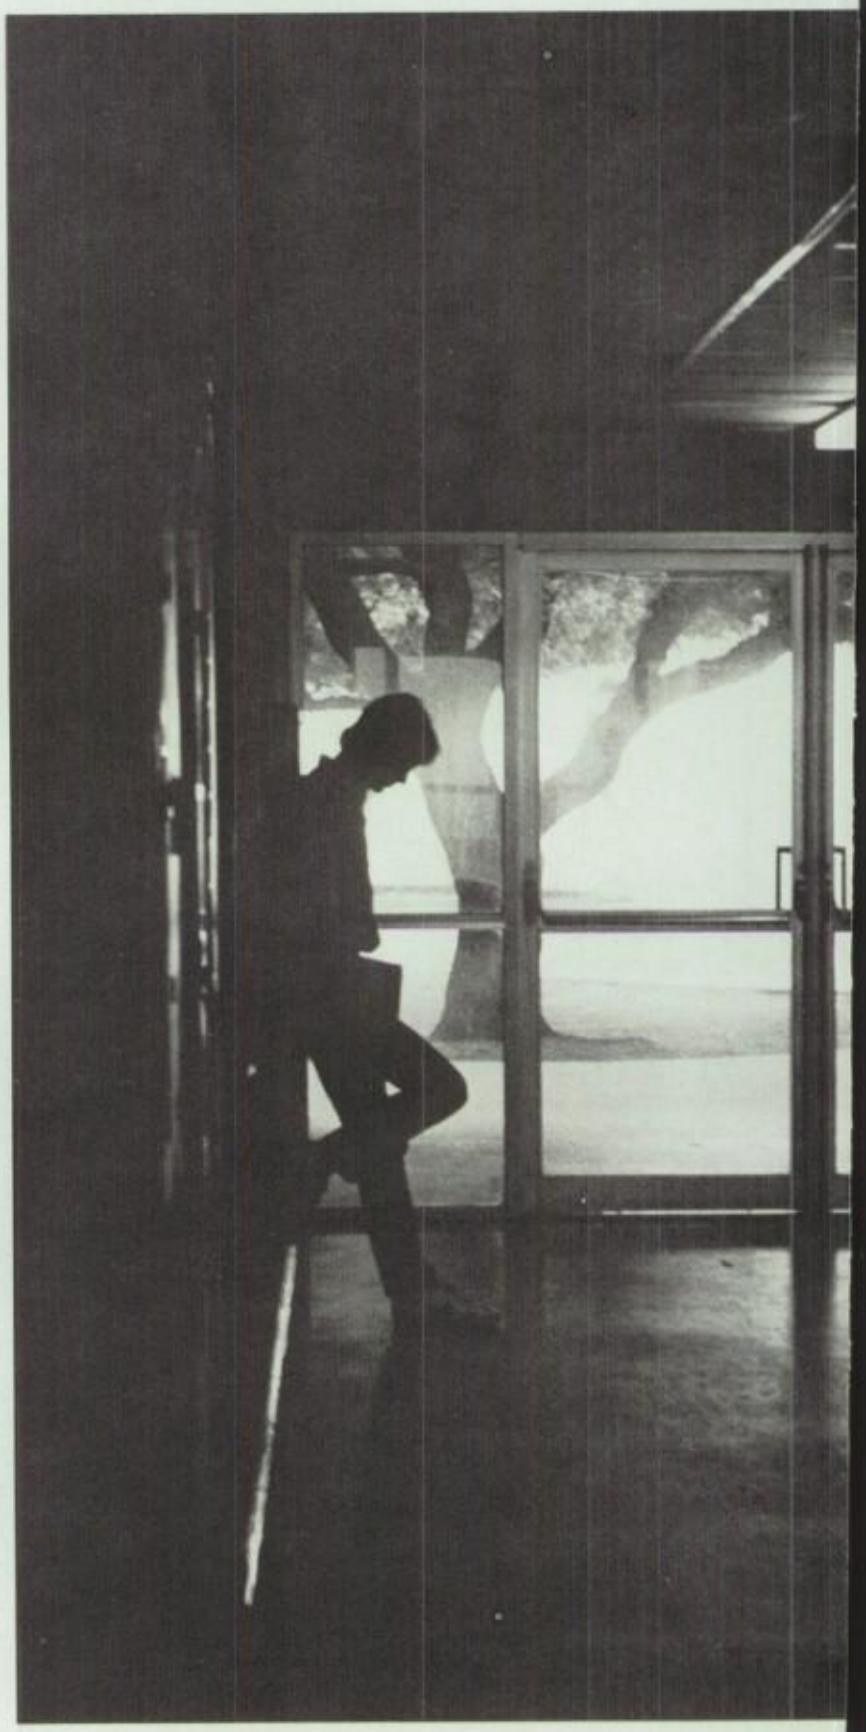
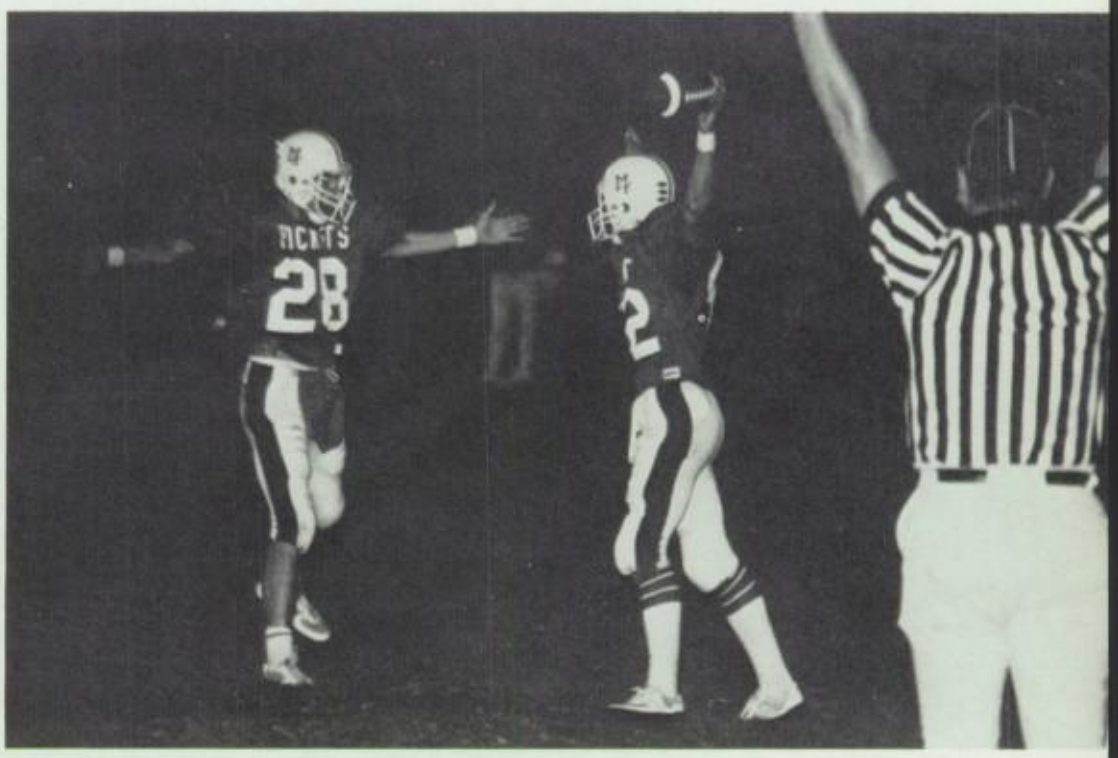
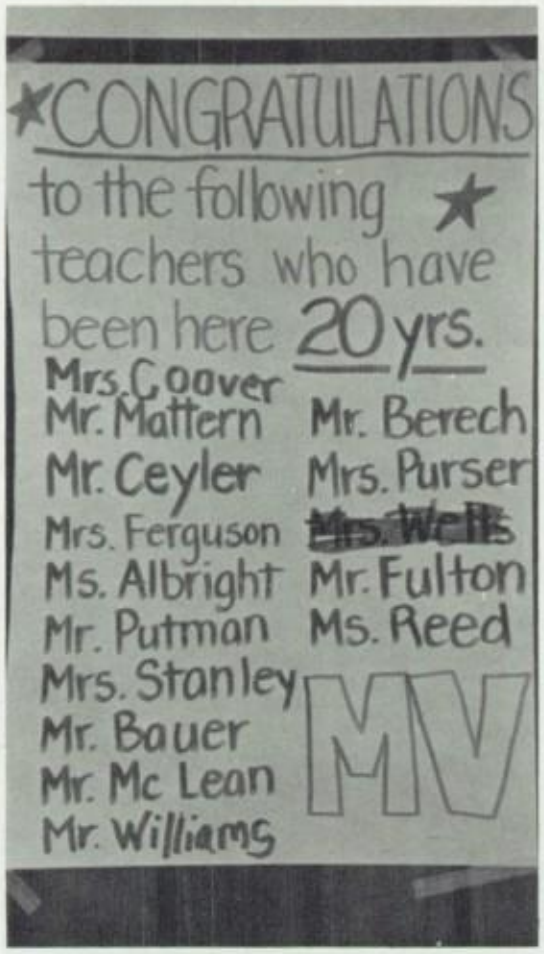
THE YEAR AT MV

The 1984-85 year at MV has been a memorable one. We started off the school year by having victory after victory in football. But our first loss was our homecoming game against Deer Valley. After that our team sagged, but our spirit soared. Toga parties became the craze. Everywhere you looked there were togas. Toga parties forever! This year was a rainy year. We had what you might call a 'wet winter'. If visiting MV on a rainy day you would see people running from class to class puddle jumping, and trying to keep dry under books. After all our partying and through all our spirit we had to get a little serious about our studying. When report card time rolled around there were disappointed looks, cries of desperation, and a lot of grounded kids. The people who weren't studying at lunch were kicking back at the snack bar or cafeteria getting nourishment on french fries, cookies, and pizza. Through all our rainy days, Moon Valley has been great! This year has been a year to be remembered by many people.







MV CELEBRATES TWENTY YEARS AT SPRING BAZAAR

Moon Valley celebrated it's 20th birthday with the annual Spring Bazaar. This year's Bazaar had everything from cotton candy to ice cream to a sexy legs competition, along with the Mr. Irrestible contest. The winner of sexy legs was Dave Wargula and Mr. Irrestible was Rob Downing. There was music, with D.J.'s Dan Peterson, Steve Page, and Mike Shobkie taking requests. Free "MV" birthday cake was available to all students.

WORLD EVENTS

THE YEAR IN PERSPECTIVE—
Although we were busy with our school and social life, we never forgot about the world and the events that happened. They all affected us, each in our own personal way.

One of the biggest events was the re-election of Ronald Reagan. The next four years will be his second term serving as U.S. President. In his election he accumulated nearly 60 percent of the vote nationwide, beating his opponent by a slight landslide. Geraldine Ferraro, the first woman to run for Vice President, was defeated in her campaign. In her own right, she had won for herself a personal victory.

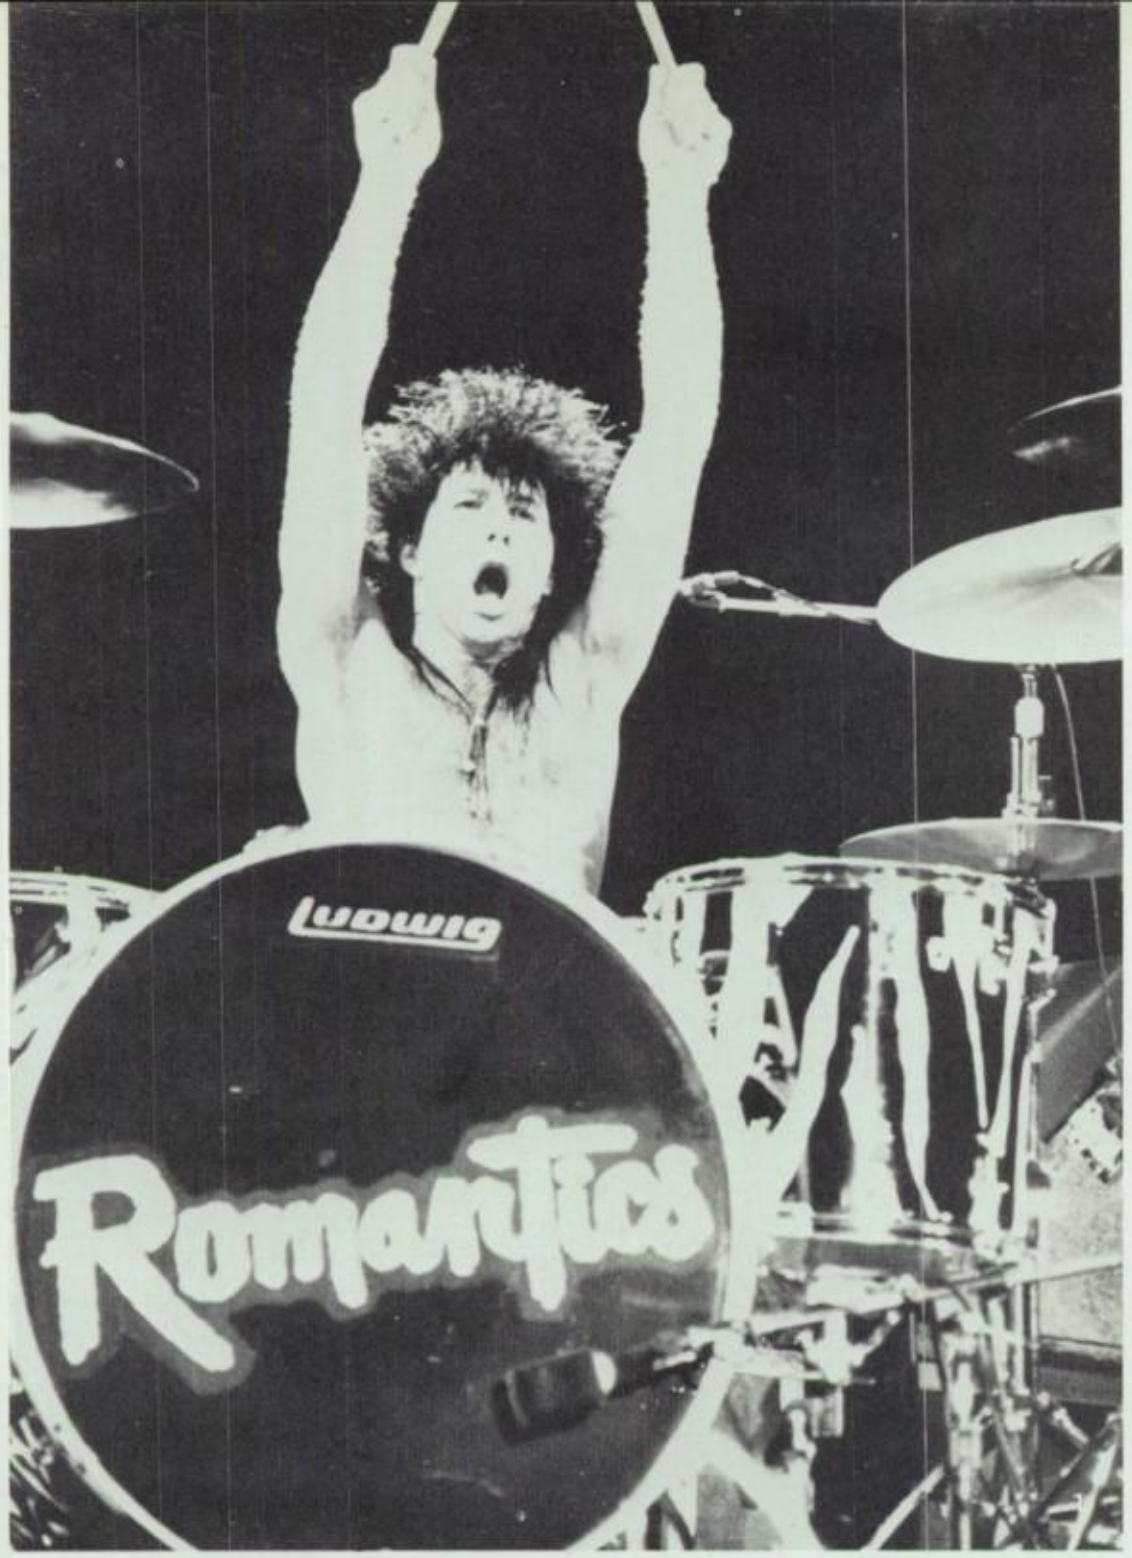
Foreign affairs had a great deal of publicity this past year. It all began with the Royal Family, Prince Charles and Lady Diana, having their second son. More tragic news shocked India and their people when a chemical leak was heard of at a Union Carbide Plant in the area. This leak had killed over 2,500 of their population. A severe food famine in Ethiopia started several popular American and British musicians thinking about teaming up and recording an album. All of the proceeds from this effort would go directly to the starving and helpless country. Down under, in Australia, AIDS (Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrom) contaminated much of the blood supply.

This was a fairly good year in sports. One of the many victories of the year was Superbowl 19 with the San Francisco 49ers defeating the Miami Dolphins 38-16. Another great victory was the World Series. The title was won by the Detroit Tigers who defeated the San Diego Padres with a score of 8 to 4 in the final game. The most spectacular event in sports this year was the 1984 Olympics. Normally taking place in another country, this years Olympics were held in Los Angeles, California. Mary Lou Retton was the big smash this year at the Olympics winning one gold, two silver, and two bronze metals. Men's gymnastics also took a turn for the better this year in events where the Chinese gymnasts normally take all the gold and glory. This year also held a special record for many coaches who decided to switch to different teams. Coaches such as Frank Kush, and Darrell Rogers were two of the many men who decided to move on to different teams.

In the medical field this year many new experiments have been tried. Baby Fae was the first infant to have an animal heart transplanted into her body. This experiment worked very well for the short time. Baby Fae lived for 32 days. New experiments are still taking place in this kind of transplant surgery. William Schroedor also was a heart transplant patient. After his surgery, things went well until he had a stroke. The stroke had set back his progress a bit. All in all, this year had been a good one for the medical field.

Space travel continued to capture the world's imagination this year as American space shuttle crews performed a variety of firsts. Early in the year, Challenger and five astronauts soared into orbit. They successfully deployed two commercial communication satellites only to have them misfire into useless orbits when booster rockets failed. In October, the Challenger was off again with the largest crew ever. The flight also featured the first space walk by an American woman, Kathy Sullivan, who joined David Leestman in the cargo bay to practice techniques for refueling satellites in orbit. The shuttle flights of the future years may not be as spectacular, but they will be frequent.

All of these events have brought this year together to make it a very special one. The accomplishments have been great and they will all add up to make this year be remembered forever.



MUSIC '84-'85

The year of 1984-'85 brought a different beat to the music scene. The biggest groups of the year included Prince with his smashing soundtrack album "Purple Rain." Cyndi Lauper cut her "She' so Unusual" album with the hits, "Girls Just Wanna Have Fun', 'She Bop', and 'Money'. Madonna also hit the music world turning half the population upside down with unique look and style.

In 1984 we also saw the come back of Tina Turner with her grammy winning album "Private Dancer" and Chicago hit the charts once again with the songs 'Stay The Night', 'Inspiration', and 'Hard Habit To Break'.

Heavy Metal took the stage in a different manner when KISS rose from the dead to record their second album without make-up; "Animalize." Other top metal acts included Ratt, Dio, Twisted Sister and the Scorpions.

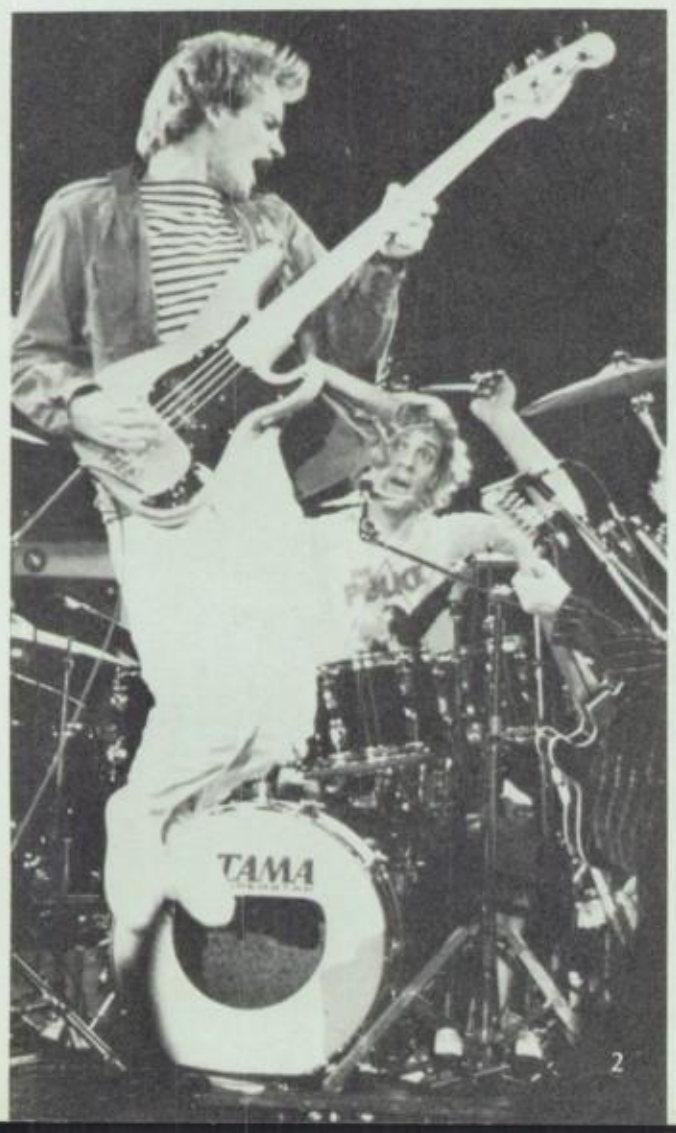
The SWEATBAND, Moon Valley's all alumni band, played their final performance at Moon Valley on Nov. 7.



This year has been a great one, and I'd like to thank all the people who make it possible, First, the yearbook staff. Everyone on staff did a fantastic job putting together the best book Moon Valley has ever seen. Mrs. Davis, you're a great teacher and a better friend. Dale, the sports pages are the most accurate and complete I have ever seen. Robbie, clubs are fantastic. Kandia and Ben, you guys did a real good job on the senior section and everything else I gave you. Brian and Brian, keep at it, you'll get there. Amanda, even though there were problems, you did a great job getting everything scheduled. Rick, good luck next year. Dawn and the freshman table, you guys did well this year, good luck next year. Some other people I'd like to thank who aren't on staff-Kim, what can I say? It's been great in second hour, thank you. Brian, Paul, Lisa and the bookstore staff, Mr. K and the administration, coach Sawyer and Coach Moore, thanks a bunch for making these four years great. Last of all, I'd like to thank Mr. Riley. Yes, We did make the final on time!

Dave Nelson

This last year at Moon Valley has been great. I'd like to throw a great big party for the dedicated, hard working yearbook staff. You guys are great. Ms. Davis, thanks mega for putting up with me, your the greatest! Dave (Mr. Patience) you did an excellent job, thanks for being such a great friend. Robbie, the club pages look superb, good luck with your photography. Kandia, Ann Marie said "Hi". Joan, what's left to say? You have inspired me the most to reach the ultimate goal. Finish the book on time.

Dale Shough

I'd like to give a special thanks to the entire yearbook staff. Each one of you has shown me what it's like to belong to something so uniquely special as the annual. All of us together add up to one whole, and that is an excellent feeling. At times tension built up, only to bring us closer together. When these times were over, we all relaxed with a smile and a sound of laughter. Sticking together through it all is what it is all about. When the book is complete, it may seem like the end, but in reality it is only the beginning. Mrs. Davis . . . THANKS!! Dave, I'm so glad that you're patient. I have faith in you. Robbie, what can I say? I wouldn't have enough time or room for it all. Dale, I know that you will make your life worthwhile. Good Luck. Ben, we did it. All the rest . . . you have made my last year here very special and I thank you for that. The best in life's endeavors.
